DETAILED ACTION

Status of the application: Notice of allowance send 10/27/04; applicants filed an IDS on 1/24/05 and issue fee on 1/27/05.

Claims Pending: 1-11,13-23, 25, 26, 42-44 and 47.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 1/24/05 was filed after the mailing date of the notice of allowance on 10/27/04. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Notice of Allowance Vacated

Prosecution on the merits of this application is reopened on all pending claims considered unpatentable for the reasons indicated below:

Claims are rejected as anticipated by, or unpatentable over a newly submitted reference by the applicant in an IDS after the issue of notice of allowance. See under claim rejections below.

Applicant is advised that the Notice of Allowance mailed is vacated. If the issue fee has already been paid, applicant may request a refund or request that the fee be credited to a deposit account. However, applicant may wait until the application is either found allowable or held abandoned. If allowed, upon receipt of a new Notice of Allowance, applicant may request that the previously submitted issue fee be applied. If abandoned, applicant may request refund or credit to a specified Deposit Account.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4,7-11,13,14, 16-23, 25, 26, 42-44 and 47 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO95/35153 (reference submitted by applicant in an IDS after notice of allowance).

Claim 1: WO teaches a hollow fiber membrane module (figures 1 and 7-12) comprising a housing (8-fig 7) having an inner cylindrical space and a surrounding packing space (fig 9), structure surrounding the packing space (fig 12) having an opening (5) for liquid to travel to the packing space (F), hollow fiber membrane bundles (S) with plurality of hollow fibers in parallel, with volumetric ratio of membranes to packing space between 3-10% (page 20, lines 19-25), and segmentation elements with openings as claimed (fig 10-12; page 43 lines 3-14). The preamble of filtration, dialysis, etc are intended use. A claim containing a “recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus” if the prior art apparatus teaches all the structural limitations of the claim. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1987)

Claim 2: cylindrical – fig 8

Claims 3, 4: hollow fiber membrane module with outer structure of the housing includes lateral openings – see fig 7 and 9. Shapes are at least circular

Claim 7: material is polymer – abstract

Claims 8,9: hollow fiber dimensions – page 13.

Claims 10,11: bundles of fibers (fig 10), mat form: fig 6.

Claim 13: segmentation element has a frame part with opening and free passage surface surrounded by frame – figures 9-12. Surface has holes for the fluids to pass, in addition to port 5.

Claim 14: stabilization elements – the segments have structure on all 6 sides.

Claim 16: segmentation element fitted to the inner surface of housing (see fig 7 and 8); compartmentalized – fig 9.

Claim 17, 18: segmentation element fitted to the outer surface of the housing: see fig 7-10. The 'housing' can be the inside surface (3) of the module also, in line with applicants' definition as in fig 4 of applicant's specification. Second cage like housing – see figures.

Claim 19: length of one segmentation element = length of housing – see fig 9

Claim 20: at least one segmentation element is shorter – see fig 7.

Claim 21: segmented potting –fig 10

Claim 22, 23: one compartment from two segments; fixed on at least one segment – fig 10

Claim 25: Housing connections – fig 7, 9

Claim 26: Materials capable of being sterilized at 121 C: materials withstand high temperature – abstract.

Claim 42: inside diameters – page 17

Claim 43: less than 10 fibers/cm – inherent by the packing density defined in claim 1.

Claim 44: one compartment by two segmentation elements – fig 10

Claim 47: hollow tubular membranes have same or different diameters – page 17.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5,6 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO95/35153.

Claims 5,6, 15: Opening sizes and area ratios are optimizable depending on the flow rates required and the pressure drops allowable. Discovery of an optimum value of a result effective variable in a known process is ordinarily within the skill of the art. In re Boesch and Slaney, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980); In re Antonie, 559 F.2d 618, 195

USPQ 6 (CCPA 1977); “[W]here the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation.” In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955)
